

*A 'cliffhanger' is an example of how writers create suspense.
If a chapter or episode ends dramatically with unresolved questions, it will pique the reader's interest and compel them to read on.*

*"Show me a character whose life arouses my curiosity, and my flesh begins crawling with suspense."
- Fawn M. Brodie*

Suspense is an element
in a work of literature
that arouses excited
expectation or uncertainty about
what may happen.

SUSPENSE